Hi Anthia

Stock was bought in Feb 2020 for $4315

And gift bags were bought for $245.

Because we didn't host a 2020 event we kept the stock for this year. Unfortunately we had to write off the edible items due to expiry dates.

Toffees, mints and jelly beans were thrown out to the value of $356.

I banked $3809.20 on the day after the Mother's Day stall and since then have collected about $80 in IOU's that I still have as cash at home.

I can provide all receipts and deposit slips if required.

Items that sold well were candles, compact mirrors, jewellery cases, fashion pouches.

Bath bombs were not popular.

There is left over stock which can be sold next year.

Thank you

Anna
